

Make Measured Decisions with a Map

FREE FARM MAPS are now available to the first 175 eligible* irrigators

SunRISE 21 Inc. has been successful in receiving funds under the Farm Decision Support Grant program to prepare farm maps that support irrigators in decision making. The program is funded through the Victorian Government's 2009 drought assistance package.

SunRISE 21 can customise your Farm Map from layers of scale accurate information. Farm Maps support informed decision making and are effective in discussions with family and service providers.

Use Farm Maps to assist decisions on adjustment to drought impact issues; refinancing, succession planning, property subdivision or consolidation, property sale, diversification, and redevelopment.

Use Farm Maps to assist discussions with family, other irrigators, support agencies, and technical service providers; financiers, rural counselling and financial services, irrigation design companies, soil surveyors, land surveyors, agronomists, industry development officers, irrigation extension officers, and real estate agents.

Farm Maps are compiled from map layers selected to suit your farm decision needs. Some layers are readily available (2009 aerial photography and property boundaries), others are subject to availability (CSIRO soils mapping and contour elevation lines) and other layers will need your input (e.g. crops, irrigation management units and subsurface drainage infrastructure).
